Global Organic Textiles Standard Accredited Certification Bodies as of May 2, 2012.

How to understand the list:

The Global Organic Textiles standards are set by the International Working Group on Global Organic Textile Standard (see www.global-standard.org) and it is this standard that must be used by accredited certification bodies in this list. The conditions for approval of certification bodies are available from the Global Standard web site.

The accredited certification body is the company or organisation whose name precedes the table.

Programme(s) covered by the accreditation: GOTS accreditation can be for the following scopes;

- Certification of mechanical textile processing and manufacturing operations and their products
- Certification of wet processing and finishing operations and their products
- Certification of trading operations and related products
- Approval of textile auxiliary agents (chemical inputs) on positive lists

Countries of operation: Countries in which the certification body has operators under their GOTS programme.

Year first accredited: Year in which the certification body was first granted GOTS accreditation.

Date of current contract: Year in which the current accreditation contract was granted.

Date of contract expiry: Year in which the current accreditation contract expires.
