ISO/IEC Guide 65 Accredited Certification Bodies as of January 12, 2010.

How to understand the list:

The accredited certification body is the company or organisation whose name precedes the table.

Programme(s) covered by the accreditation: A certification body may operate more than one certification programme. The IOAS currently only offers ISO/IEC Guide 65 accreditation in the field of organic agriculture. ISO/IEC Guide 65 accreditation scope is offered for organic programmes certifying according to a government regulation. Alternatively the scope may be private organic standards set by the Certification Body itself or by another standard setting body.

Countries of operation: Countries in which the certification body has operators under the ISO/IEC Guide 65 programme.

Year first accredited: Year in which the certification body was first granted ISO/IEC Guide 65 accreditation.

Date of current contract: Year in which the current accreditation contract was granted.

Date of contract expiry: Year in which the current accreditation contract expires.
